ABSTRACT

This summary of Nebraska library statistics for the 1996-1997 fiscal year is a compilation of data reported by 225 public libraries. Of these reporting libraries, 74% meet the state guidelines required for accreditation and are eligible for direct state aid and federal grants. Sixty-seven pages of statistical charts are divided according to the following categories: library staffing and income (open hours, number of staff, sources, total operating, per capita); expenditures and collection (salaries and benefits, operations, materials collection, totals, and holdings of books, periodicals, software, and other materials); output measures and automation information (annual figures for attendance, reference questions, children's programs, adult and juvenile circulation, holdings per capita, interlibrary loans, turnover rate, and number of computers, modems, Internet access information); and salary information. In each category, reporting libraries are grouped according to their service population. Statewide summaries of data are then provided. The data show some changes from the previous fiscal year, in the percentage of budget spent on the following categories: increase in personnel expenditures, while the percentages spent for collections and electronic access remained the same. INTRODUCTION

This summary of Nebraska library statistics for the 1996-1997 fiscal year is a compilation of data reported by 225 public libraries. Of these reporting libraries, 74% meet the state guidelines required for accreditation and are eligible for direct state aid and federal grants.

This profile document contains potentially useful planning data. This introduction offers a brief overview, and some ideas about how to use these data as you plan for your library. First a few notes on the arrangement of the list of libraries: they are in order of Population Served (or Service Population) from the smallest to the largest number served. For comparison purposes, libraries are arranged in six groups according to service population. The System in which a library is located is listed with each library. The easiest way to find a specific library is to turn to pages 76-78 which contains an alphabetical list of towns in which libraries are located, followed by the official name of the library and the service population.

Other data which may prove useful:

- Library Data includes open hours, number of staff (including FTE's, or full-time-equivalents)
- Library Income includes sources, total operating, per capita
- Automation information covers number of computers, modems, and Internet access information
- Output Measures shows annual figures for attendance, reference questions, children's programs, adult and juvenile circulation, holdings per capita, interlibrary loans, and turnover rate (collection divided by population)
- Pages 70-75 contain statewide summaries of data
- Collection data indicates holdings of books, periodicals, software, etc.
- Library Expenditures includes salaries & benefits (also percentage of total budget), operations, materials collection, and totals

The data show some changes from the previous fiscal year, in the percentage of budget spent on the following categories: personnel expenditures increased from 62% to 64% of total budgets, while the percentages spent for collections (12%) and electronic access (3%) remained the same. This last figure is perhaps surprising in light of the perception that libraries are spending ever-increasing amounts in this category. Statewide just over 57% of our public libraries have access to the Internet. Other than the largest category of libraries, the category with the highest Internet access is libraries in the 2,500 to 4,999 service population category (92.3%). This percentage drops off significantly in libraries serving under 1,000 population (30.2%), and more surprisingly in libraries serving between 10,000 and 49,999 (46.0%).

Finally, for those who wish to be initiated in the process of how the Service Population or Population Served is figured, see page 85 of the Profile. This calculation is very important for your planning purposes, and when we calculate state aid allocations.

We hope this Profile proves to be a useful tool for librarians and boards as they strive to improve public library services in Nebraska.

SERVICE POPULATION

The public library statistics collected each year include many items which are based on the number of people the library is funded to serve. The service population is the figure used to determine funding per capita, holdings per capita, as well as annual state aid payments, where applicable. Also, the Guidelines for Accreditation refer to service population in two places. The service population is the figure applied when determining the librarian certification level required (Guideline No. 12), and minimum days and hours of library service (Guideline No. 7).

The term "service population" is used to refer to that population for which public tax funds are received for public library service. For most libraries, this figure is the same as that of the local city, as determined by the most recent census data. In cases where funds are paid to the library by an additional public entity, such as the county, there is a formula used to determine what portion of county residents is counted among the "service population."

Formula for determining Service Population:

1. Add together the local populations of each city or village with a public library.
2. Subtract the figure in #1 from the total population of the county = county population outside of cities with public libraries.
3. For each city with a public library, find out what percentage its population is of the total local population (1)
4. Take that percentage times the county population outside of cities with public libraries (2).
5. Add the local population of the city to the number in 4 for the service population.

Examples of Service Population determination:

POLK COUNTY	Local	Non-city	Service
Osceola (27.8%)	879	700	1579
Polk (10.9%)	345	275	620
Shelby (21.9%)	690	550	1240
Stromsburg (39.4%)	1241	988	2229
	3155	2513	5668

Example: Osceola

Local population = 879. Divide 879 by the total of all "local" populations (3155).
Osceola's population represents .278 of 3155. Multiply the "non-city" population total by $.278 (2513 \times .278 = 700)$. Add that amount (700) to Osceola's local population (879) for a total SERVICE POPULATION of 1579.
